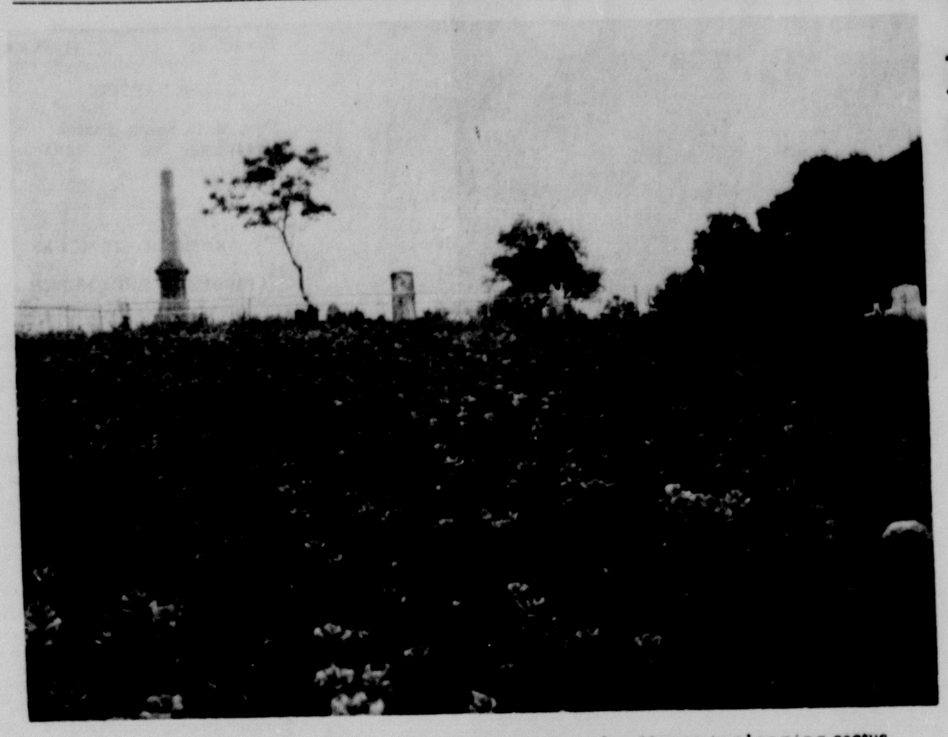
US 77 Project Due Final Completion



BLUEBONNETS GALORE have turned the Old Cameron Cemetery into a place of quiet beauty. This is a wonderful time to visit the historic landmark, and enjoy the sights and sounds of spring. The Cemetery Association's efforts in clearing cactus and brush from the site are complimented by out-of-state visitors who have signed the visitors book at the cemetery.

Rockdale, Milano Get ADE Class

The Basic Adult Education program which has 85 enrolled in Cameron and 31 in Hearne has been expanded to include the Rockdale and Milano areas of Milam County.

Max McClaren, supervisor of the program, said classes will be held every Tuesday and Thursday 7 to 10 p.m. at the Rockdale Elementary annex and the Milano School. Arthur Leggett and D. A. Boney are instructors for Rockdale and Vance McDonald will teach the Hearne class.

McClaren said the classes in Cameron have resulted in job promotions for 11 students with prospects of 4 other job improvements by summer.

Books, paper and all materials are furnished at no cost to the pupils, McClaren said. Pupils must be at least 17 years of age to enroll in the course on fundamental math, English, science and government, and the practical aspect of education such as improvement of home and surroundings, community participation, family budget preparation, physical hygiene and educational procedures.

Road Now Safer For Commuters

The Texas Highway Department reports that all work on Highway 77 between Cameron and Minerva should be finished by the end of next week.

Eastern commuters have their trials with trains - local commuters to Alcoa Rockdale Works had theirs on a narrow, winding stretch of U.S. 77 that has seen more than its share of traffic accidents, many fatal.

The flow of traffic at the intersection of SH 36 and US 77 south of Cameron has also been re-routed, eliminating some of the hazards which have caused numerous accidents over the past years.

A spokesman at the Texas Highway Department district engineers's office at Hearne said wet weather had delayed final asphalt sealing of highway shoulders, which will be topped with contrasting white rock.

Weather permitting, he said, the shoulders will be finished in a week.

The construction project consisted of grading, widening structures, and new surfacing.

The wider road now permits slower vehicles to move over to the right, allowing faster traffic to pass without crossing the center line. Hills also have a climbing lane for heavily loaded vehicles.

The wider, smoother highway should mean time saved for most local commuting Alcoa employees, among others, who may now have time for an extra "forty winks."

Absentee Votes Get Slow Start

Ten votes were cast in a slow opening week for Milam County primary election absentee voting.

Wayne Wieser, Milam County Clerk, said Tuesday, April 28 will be the deadline for voting in his office or for filling requests to mail absentee ballots. He said however that completed ballots can be accepted by mail through noon May 2.

Persons in the county who plan to be absent the day of the May 2 primary election can vote absentee in the County Clerk's office during regular office hours Monday through Friday.

Voting may be done by mail only if a voter is out of the county and will remain out of the county during the entire absentee voting period. Only exception is for persons within the county who are physically unable to get to the County Clerk's office. A doctor's affidavit must accompany a request for an in-county mailed ballot, Weiser said.

Diptheria At Elgin No Threat

A Diptheria outbreak at Elgin following Cameron's participation in a school relay there should not cause alarm by local parents according to Dr. C. G. Swift, Milam County Health Unit Director.

"Incidents of sore throat should be checked," Dr. Swift said, "and as a general health precaution boosters should be maintained for all diseases for which we now have immunizations."

A mass inoculation of diptheria vaccine for Elgin school children followed disclosure that 25 pupils were ill with diptheria and 71 pupils were identified as carriers of the disease although they were immune.

Elgin school officials said the fourth, fifth and sixth grades were hardest hit by the diptheria outbreak.

Dr. Swift said the local health unit had received 1,000 doses of the vaccine this week in case of local outbreak. He said the illness had been practically nonexistent in Texas until recent outbreaks in Austin, San Antonio, El Campo and Elgin.

Dr. Swift said anyone who had received a Tetanus booster was also immunized against diptheria. He said the booster was effective for at least 12 months.

Milam Aggies Muster

Cameron will host the annual Aggie Muster Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Methodist Fellowship Hall, according to Muster Chairman Stanley J. Glaser of Buckholts.

The annual Muster, when former students of Texas A&M gather to mark the passing of comrades and honor them, dates from April 21, 1903.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Richard C. Potts, assistant dean of Agriculture at Texas A&M University.

Mrs. Arledge Injured In One-Car Accident

Mrs. Ruby Arledge, Yoe High School counselor, was hospitalized last week following a one car accident near Buckholts.

Highway Patrolman Leroy Broadus said Mrs. Arledge suffered facial injuries Tuesday night when her car went out of control on a seldom used county road about 8 miles south of Buckholts.

GOP Candidates Name Two County Campaign Managers

J. Estel Johnston, chairman of the Milam County Republican Committee, was recently named county campaign manager by George Bush in his Senate race.

Republican candidate for governor Paul Eggers named Jack Tumlinson of Cameron as his county campaign manager.

For Combat Duty...
Navy Cites Mike Allison

His duty was saving the lives of injured Marines in Vietnam and a Cameron Navy medical corpsman performed that duty so well he has earned the Navy Achievement Medal.

Michael C. Allison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Allison of the Marlow community, was recently cited by the Secretary of the Navy for "outstanding achievement in the superior performance of his duties in the field of professional achievement..."

This is the second citation for Petty Officer Allison. His first, a Certificate of Commendation, was awarded last October for saving a Marine's life with a ball point pen.

The incident happened while Allison was serving as a Corpsman with the Third Marine Division in Vietnam on February 12, 1969.

According to Navy reports, Allison was administering aid to a Marine who was unable to breathe after being pinned beneath debris.

Allison inserted a conventional medical device into the Marine's throat in an attempt to restore his breathing. When this failed, he quickly performed a tracheotomy and used the hollow casing of a ball point pen to provide an air passage. The Marine lived.

The citation accompanying the Navy Achievement Medal praises Michael's "courage and composure under fire," and superior performance of his duties.

It reads, in part: "While serving with the Third Battalion, Twelfth Marines, Third Marine Division in connection with combat operations against the enemy in the Republic of Vietnam from 11 September 1968 to 10 July 1969, Petty Officer Allison performed his duties in an exemplary manner.

"...he displayed outstanding professionalism and initiative despite extremely adverse conditions... Participating in five major combat operations ...he repeatedly distinguished himself by his courage and composure under fire... provided his command with superb medical support... and on several occasions was instrumental in saving the lives of injured Marines.

"As a result of his diligence and seemingly unlimited resourcefulness, he gained the respect and admiration of all who observed him, and contributed significantly to the accomplishment of his unit's mission..."

Allison, who entered the Navy in December 1966, is now stationed at the Naval Medical Research Institute at Bethseda, Md.

He attended Temple Junior College for two years before joining the Navy, and plans to enroll at Texas A&M University after he is discharged.

NAVY CITES ALLISON - Michael C. Allison, right, receives handshake from Capt. H. C. Sudduth, MC, USN, Commanding Officer at the Naval Medical Research Institute, Bethseda, Md., after receiving the Navy Achievement Medal. Allison was cited for his outstanding service as a Medical Corpsman serving with the Third Marine Division in Vietnam.

APPLICATIONS IN FOR FHA RURAL HOUSING LOANS

Several applications have been received in the Farmers Home Administration county office in Cameron, for loans under the new Conditional Commitment for rural housing loans program.

When builders or sellers of homes to be constructed or repaired meet FHA lending requirements, the agency will give assurance to make loans to qualified applicants who may want to buy the homes.

The first such commitment has been granted to National Building Centers, Inc. of Rockdale, for a new home to be built and sold there, according to Henry Ivey, county FHA office manager.

This commitment does not reserve funds for a loan, Ivey explained, nor does it provide for construction financing. The builder has certified that there will be no discrimination in the sale of the dwellings.

Settlement Ends Workman's Suit

A workmans compensation suit in Milam District Court involving an Alcoa employee and Texas Employers' Insurance Association was ended early Wednesday afternoon by an out of court settlement of $3,300 to the employee.

Texas Employers' Insurance Association had filed the suit in District Court here, appealing an award by the Industrial Accident Board, Austin, to Jimmie T. Broaddus of $3,645 for inuries he sustained in 1966.

Broaddus had filed a cross action in the case.

Attorneys for Broadus were George Dixie of Houston and Don Humble, Cameron. Texas Employers' Insurance Association's attorneys were J. T. Holmes and Robert Ellett. Judge W. C. Wallace presided in the case.

Broaddus testified Tuesday afternoon that he was among a crew engaged in cleaning a pot in Alcoa's potline on October 24, 1966, and when he started to shovel out some of the metal knocked loose by a jack hammer, he suffered pains in his back and hip. He received first aid at Alcoa, was hospitalized in Rockdale, and later at Scott and White, Temple where he underwent surgery.

He returned to work about May 1, 1967, first as a member of a "handicapped crew" in accordance with Alcoa's policy to assign an employee to light work while recovering from an injury. Later he became a tractor and crane operator.

Testimony from several other witnesses, Alcoa employees and Scott and White physician, Dr. Murray, who treated Broaddus, also was heard and continued until noon Wednesday when a recess was called by Judge Wallace.

It was during the recess that the out of court settlement was reached.

Members of the eleven man, one woman jury were:

Robert Weise, Pete Keen, Miss Ella Caywood, Raymond Schneider, Rodney Barker, Clyde L. Hargrove, Ray Whited, Joe Humplik, A. E. Matula, G. T. Wood, Edwin D. Blinka, and Willie Moraw.

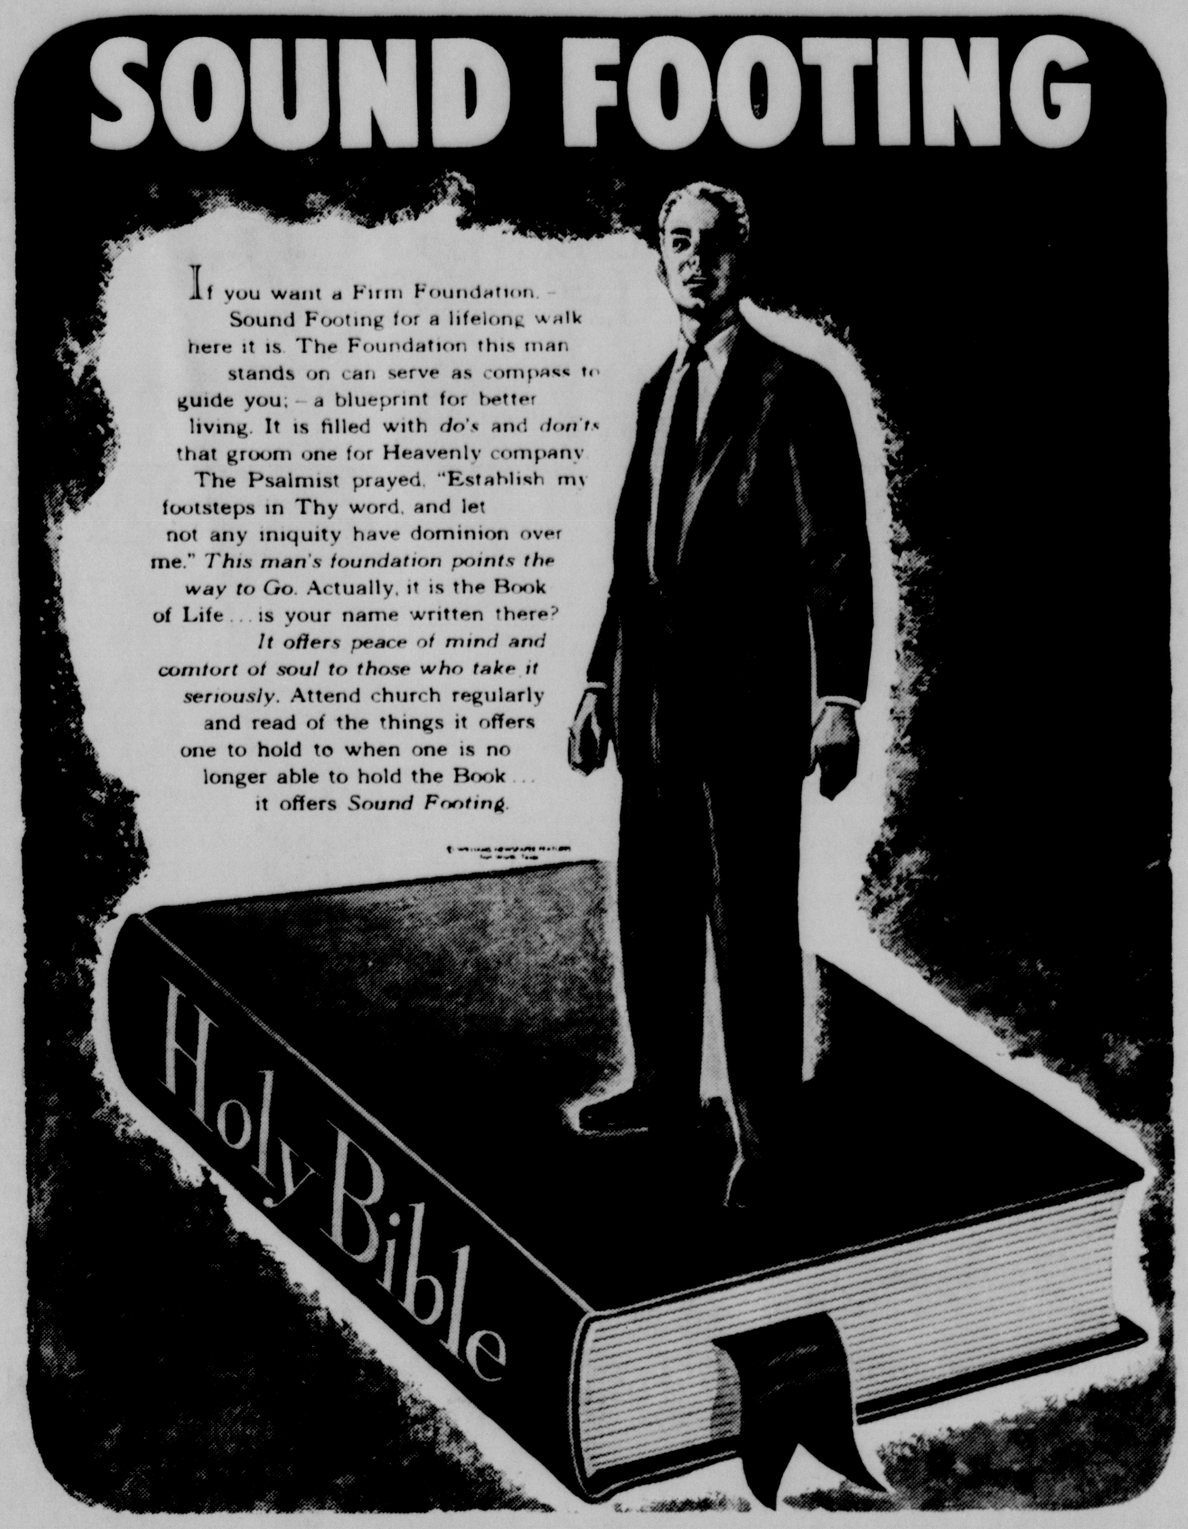
WORSHIP IN CHURCH



SOUND FOOTING
If you want a Firm Foundation. – Sound Footing for a lifelong walk here it is. The Foundation this man stands on can serve as compass to guide you; – a blueprint for better living. It is filled with do's and don'ts that groom one for Heavenly company. The Psalmist prayed, "Establish my footsteps in Thy word, and let not any iniquity have dominion over me." This man's foundation points the way to Go. Actually, it is the Book of Life . . . is your name written there? It offers peace of mind and comfort of soul to those who take it seriously. Attend church regularly and read of the things it offers one to hold to when one is no longer able to hold the Book . . . it offers Sound Footing.

New Milam TTS....

Congratulations to the Milam Sheriff's Department for installation of the new teletype system, linking Milam County with the Texas Department of Public Safety system throughout the state.

It goes into operation Tuesday.

Law enforcement is changing as rapidly as this electronic age.

Cameron Police Sgt. Felipe Martinez has completed a 40-hour course on narcotics to better equip him and other enforcement officials who can seek advice through his training.

As Milam County comes into the communications network of Texas, its law enforcement will have fuller advantage of information when it is needed. And often, that is "now."

Tuesday, another channel is added to the improvement of law enforcement in this county, one of the 254 in Texas, and not the smallest by any measure either.

The Curbed Bulldozer....

A livelier concern for "quality of living" is entering public attitudes in the United States. It's reflected in the prospects of the national highway program, the dam-building of the Army Corps of Engineers, strip-mining in Kentucky, and offshore oil drilling, to name a few areas of public anxiety.

Public needs for transportation, oil, electric power and the like must be met, it is generally recognized. But the question being asked much more frequently is: "Will this project or that construction wreck housing, despoil scenery, pollute the environment, split a neighborhood?"

A business advisory service, noting the defeat of the timber bill in Congress, warns that the environmentalists--the antipollution legions--are in the saddle. A lot of dams, highways, power plants, strip-mining programs, and such are likely to be defeated, if new attitudes persist.

Take the $63 billion national highway program. Secretary of Transportation John Volpe is vetoing a number of highway proposals because they would damage scenic areas, wreck neighborhoods, destroy housing when replacement housing is unavailable. Similarly the Army Corps of Engineers is being advised to stop proposing dam sites on wild rivers and wilderness areas. This new scrutiny, this heightened concern for the environment, is a heathly development--very necessary in this "age of the busy bulldozer."

Pollution Problem Faces Legislators, Says Kubiak

"Air and water pollution, many ecologists say, is the single most important problem facing our nation, our state and our communities," Rep. Dan Kubiak stated in his newsletter this week.

"It has been proposed that a priority be placed on legislation setting a deadline for variances granting polluters 'licenses to pollute' as of January 1, 1972, and no further variances be allowed after that date."

Kubiak noted that the State Water Quality Board has in recent months begun to crack down on municipal polluters, especially the City of Houston.

"The standards of the Water Quality Board must be raised considerably," Rep. Kubiak said, "and we in the legislature must provide more funds to enforce stringent standards."

A change in voter registration for Texans is "long overdue," Rep. Kubiak noted. Registering voters every presidential year would cut down on the tremendous expense involved in yearly registration, he said.

Interested men may write Rep. Kubiak's office at Box 272 Rockdale, or the P&W Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin 78701.

P&W OFFICERS WANTED

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department is now accepting applications for game management officers, lawmen charged with enforcing the game, fish and water safety laws in the state.

Deadline for applications is April 24. Applicants must be between 21 and 40 years of age and in good physical condition; have a high school education and pass a competitive written examination.

WHAT IS COMMUNITY PROPERTY?

The ancient Goths were an aggressive people who spread over most of Europe by the sixth century. It is said that the women fought alongside their men and thus became entitled to half the spoils of war.

The laws of the Goths went with them as they invaded France and Spain. The French version became the law of Louisiana, and the Spanish version became the law of Mexico and its colonies, including Texas. Other states where the community property system exists are Idaho, Arizona, California, Louisiana, New Mexico, Nevada, Washington and, to a limited extent, Oklahoma.

SEPARATE PROPERTY—COMMUNITY PROPERTY

To determine what community property is, we must determine what it is not. Property owned by a husband or wife before marriage is that person's separate property. Property received after marriage by gift or inheritance is separate property.

Community property is what is left. That is, community property is all property acquired by either spouse during marriage which is not separate property.

The principle is simple, but its application can be difficult. The question of what is separate and what is community usually does not arise until the marriage is terminated by death or divorce.

This is a condensed version of one of 10 chapters of a 21-chapter book, "How To Live—and Die—With Texas Probate," copyrighted by the Gulf Publishing Company. These condensations in no way cover the whole volume, which can be purchased from your local bookstore or from Gulf Publishing Co., P. O. Box 2708, Houston 77001.

INCOME FROM SEPARATE PROPERTY

A large part of the trouble in distinguishing separate from community property results from the assumption by many couples that income from a separate asset is itself separate. Unfortunately for those people, the opposite is true.

Income from a separate asset is half the husband's and half the wife's. This includes rent from separate real estate; rents from oil leases covering separate land; salaries, wages and other earnings of both husband and wife; interest and cash dividends on separately owned securities, and profits from separate livestock.

Although community property can be converted into separate property by a written instrument signed by husband and wife, it is against the Texas community property law to put community property in the name of husband and wife so that on the death of one the property will automatically be owned by the other -- called "joint tenancy."

Those who acquired property in joint tenancy before moving to Texas may find it advantageous to change the arrangement as it also produces harsh estate-tax consequences.

Newcomers to Texas begin to acquire community property when they receive their first earnings. There is no automatic conversion into community property of assets brought into the state. They will remain the separate property of the owners if it was separate when acquired.

Married people who leave Texas do not thereby convert their community estate to separate property. Texas property, generally speaking, if community property at the time of the owners' leaving, will remain so.

DEATH AND COMMUNITY PROPERTY

The community is dissolved by death of one spouse. If there is no will, the survivor has the right to continue to manage the community, but where the decedent has left a will and an executor has been appointed by the court, this right is limited.

In the absence of a will, the law specifies how all property of a deceased person shall be distributed. Community property is inherited differently from separate property — another reason why every person should make a will.

For centuries the husband managed the community, including the wife's earnings. The law was changed January 1, 1968. It now virtually eliminates the husband's traditional right to manage and places the husband and wife on equal footing.

It provides that each handles his or her personal earnings and the income from his or her separate property. Other community property is subject to the joint management of the husband and wife.

Thailand Visited In 3 Arts Club Program

A gracious Thai "Sawaddi" was the greeting Mrs. John Henderson Sr. gave Three Arts Club members as guest speaker on Southeast Asia for the club's April meeting.

Mrs. Lee Marek Jr. was hostess for the meeting at her home with co-hostesses Mrs. John Henderson, Jr. and Mrs. John Schigut.

Mrs. Henderson spoke of Thailand as the country of "smiling faces and freedom." She related the six weeks of touring, shopping, and making friends in Bangkok as houseguests of their daughter and son-in-law, the Parker Hallbergs.

"Bangkok is a city of contrasts," Mrs. Henderson said. "It is rich in tradition, beautiful flowers, the finest silks. A fascinating and friendly place for American visitors."

Following the program traditional Asian fruit compote, pastries and tea were served. Table appointments were of crystal and Thai bronzeware, Mrs. Bernay Dusek assisted at the tea service.

Momentos from the Henderson's trip were on display during the social hour.

In a business meeting preceeding the program the following officers were elected for the coming year:

Mrs. Bernay Dusek, president, Mrs. Edward Schiller, vice president, Mrs. Frank Luecke, recording secretary, Mrs. Monroe Fuchs, corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Henderson Jr., treasurer.

ALCOA FOREMAN - Leon Hammett, 18-year electrician in the Electrical Maintenance Department of Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works, has been promoted to electrical maintenance foreman, and will assume his new duties effective April 16. Born in Winnsboro, La., and now a Rockdale resident, Hammett served in the U. S. Marine Corps from 1946 to 1949 and was discharged with the rank of sergeant.

Miss Frances Wimmer and Miss Kathleen Kostroun served refreshments from a serving table covered with a white lace cloth. The bride-elect's chosen colors of orchid and white were carried out in the centerpiece. Crystal appointments highlighted the setting.

The gift table held an arrangement of white bells. Mrs. Kenneth Schneider and Miss Dorothy Wimmer assisted Miss Whitson with the gifts.

Special guests were the mothers of the couple Mrs. Billy Whitson and Mrs. Richard Jistel.

An April 25 wedding is planned by the couple.

'EMBASSY ROW' REVIEWED FOR CLUB PROGRAM

Pleasure and Profit Club met Thursday April 9, in the home of Mrs. Roy Hensley, with Mrs. Cornelius Titsworth as hostess.

Mrs. Virginia Schuhsler presented the program, a book review, "Embassy Row", by Hope Ridings Miller.

"Embassy Row, The Life and Times of Diplomatic Washington gives us an inside look at the world of diplomatic Washington," Mrs. Schuhsler said. "The author traces the development of the Washington diplomatic corp from the handful of foreign representatives in George Washington's administration to the 116 of today.

"The problems of the new African Ambassadors, the costs of entertainment, the high-level spying, the style of the British and the French, the diplomatic success of our own officials make the book a most interesting and revealing story on Washington's diplomacy, which is described as a world-within-a-city."

The hostess served the eight members and one guest, Mrs. Bobby Carter, refreshments of coffee, punch, sanwiches, mints and cake squares.

HIGH QUALITY HAY

High quality hay is no accident--it requires planning and action now, says Neal Pratt, Extension agronomist. He suggests these steps for a quality hay program. Get a soil test; follow the test recommendations on fertilizer use; harvest the hay before the plants mature and top dress hay fields for additional cuttings.
